

Name _____ Date _____ Class _____

Basic Grammar Review

Parts of Speech (Adjective, Noun, Verb, Adverb, Preposition, Conjunction, Pronoun, Interjection)

Write three sentences that each use all eight parts of speech in the order listed above and label each part.
Example: The enthusiastic cow jumped gleefully over the moon, and I cried, "Wow!"

1.

2.

3.

Parts of a Sentence – Subject and Predicate - The subject is the noun that drives the action. The predicate consists of the action (verb –linking, transitive or intransitive) and may sometimes be accompanied by an object, a prepositional object, and/or a non-prepositional indirect object.

Read each sentence aloud to a peer and name the subject, the verb and all the objects:

The player gave the basketball to its rightful owner.

I am mad at you.

Carla calls her best friend daily.

He lent me a pencil.

Did you do your homework?

Let's go to a movie.

Will you bring your homework to your teacher?

That's awesome.

Types of Sentences I – Declarative, Interrogative, Imperative, Exclamatory

Label each sentence with either a "D," "Int," "Imp" or "E":

_____ I love that hat.

_____ Where have all the flowers gone?

_____ Where did you get it?

_____ You really are a wonderful friend.

_____ Please, clean your room.

_____ Thank you for everything.

_____ Clean it now!

_____ It would be nice if you did the dishes once in a while.

Types of Sentences II – Simple, Compound, Complex and Compound-complex

Label each sentence with either a "S," "C," "CX" or "C-CX":

_____ When I was younger, I roller-skated everywhere.

_____ She ate dinner after she got home.

