

Autobiographical Narrative Make-Up Assignment

If you missed the deadline on the autobiographical narrative, you may now write two essays in order to earn the same number of points.

Please write the first essay (autobiographical narrative) in addition to a new fictional narrative and submit BOTH as attachments to writersworkshop@webstacletcourse.com no later than Friday, October 7, 2011 7am. Do not bring in a printed copy or a flash drive. Email the essays as you were shown. This will enable me to possibly select your essays for publication in the next edition of Aspiracy.

The outline of the fictional narrative is identical to the outline of the autobiographical narrative. The only difference is that the fictional narrative is completely made up and involves characters and events that stem foremost from your imagination.
