

Name _____ Date _____ Class _____

AP English Literature and Composition - Webstacle Course

Be the first to do all of the assigned tasks, emerge unscathed, and win!

1. Find a board game that tests your knowledge of the last novel we read. What is the e-mail address of the seller? _____ What is the price of the game? _____ Is there more than one game on the Web? _____ Prove it: _____

2. Find a Feminist critique of Pride and Prejudice and draw a picture of its central thesis here:

Source: _____

3. Find a Socialist critique of Pride and Prejudice and comment on its relevance in no more than fifteen words here:

Source: _____

4. Answer the following question thoughtfully: How is it possible to perform either a Feminist or Socialist critique of a novel that was written well before either Feminism or Socialism existed as such?

5. Write a seven-sentence summary of the life, work and legacy of Jane Austen here:

6. Go to Spark Notes <http://www.sparknotes.com/lit/pride/quiz.html> and take the Pride and Prejudice quiz. Write the number you answered correctly here: _____.

7. Which one of the questions was the most lame, and how would you rewrite it?

8. Which one question would you add?

9. Go to Survey Monkey (surveymonkey.com) and create a five- to eight-question survey/quiz that somehow involves the novel Pride and Prejudice. For example, if you were to discuss fashion, you might include the following question:

What was Mrs. Bennet wearing during the opening scene of Pride and Prejudice?

- A. A man's suit
- B. A wet suit
- C. Nothing
- D. Clothes common of women during the Regency period
- E. None of the above

Write the link to your finished survey here:

For example:

http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.aspx?sm=2bJDHn4_2fkdhkN78Slz_2fVefw_3d_3d

10. Write your thoughts about this Webstacle Course in one polysyllabic adjective (with British spelling) here: _____