

You Are My Level -- An Homage to Accelerated Reader Sung to the Tune of You Are My Sunshine

by Andrea Kittelson

You are my level
My reading level
You are within my ZPD
Which is where I can work
Quite independently
Unless you're a Constructivist which means I can work independently and/or with other students all time

Oh, when I found you
My reading level
By taking a test to see where you reside
I learned I could read
Below where I wanted
But that of course fueled my desire to achieve

And so I logged on
To Accelerated Reader
To their Book Finder
Which hosts thousands and thousands of titles
It's where I found your progeny, my perfect match
So I could test out of this lower-than-I-wanted level

You are my level
My reading level
You are within my ZPD
Which is where I can work
Quite independently
Unless you're a Constructivist which means I can work independently and/or with other students all time

Here are a few books
I find intriguing
They've piqued my interest
And made my wonder
If they are worth my time and intellect
I'll never know for sure until I read their words

You are my level
My reading level
You are within my ZPD
Which is where I can work
Quite independently
Unless you're a Constructivist which means I can work independently and/or with other students all time
